Introduction

Armistead Peter, Jr., (1870-1960) was born in 1870, one of the five children of Dr. Armistead Peter (1840-1902) and Martha Custis (Kennon) Peter (1843-1886). After the death of his grandmother Britannia (Peter) Kennon (1815-1911), he became the third owner of Tudor Place. He married Anna (Williams) Peter (1872-1961), daughter of Major Laurence Abert Williams (1832-1879) and Sarah (Law) Williams (1837-1912), in 1894. With the exception of periods during which he travelled, Armistead Peter, Jr., lived at Tudor Place his entire life. Upon his death in 1960 his only child, Armistead Peter 3rd (1896-1983), inherited the house and grounds and became the last private owner of Tudor Place.

These papers were a part of the estate Armistead Peter placed under the auspices of the Carostead Foundation, Incorporated, in 1966; the name of the foundation was changed to Tudor Place Foundation, Incorporated, in 1987. Use and rights of the papers are controlled by the Foundation. The collection was processed and the register prepared by James Kaser, a project archivist hired through a National Historical Records and Publications grant in 1992. This document was reformatted by Emily Rusch and revised by Tudor Place archivist Wendy Kail in 2020.

Biographical Sketch

Armistead Peter, Jr., was born in 1870, second son of Martha (Kennon) Peter (1843-1886) and Dr. Armistead Peter (1840-1902). His parents resided at Tudor Place from 1867-1881, the first fourteen years of their marriage; all their children were born at Tudor Place, the home of their mother. The five children born to Dr. Armistead Peter and Martha (Kennon) Peter included: Walter Gibson Peter (1868-1945); Armistead Peter, Jr. (1870-1960); Beverley Kennon Peter (1872-1922); George Freeland Peter (1875-1953); Agnes Norfleet Peter (1880-1957).

Dr. Armistead Peter built a home near Tudor Place at 3044 O Street N.W., Washington, D.C.; the family moved there in 1881. Armistead Peter, Jr., attended the Rittenhouse Academy from 1886-1887, and in September 1887 entered The Preparatory School of the Columbian University [George Washington University] along with his brothers Beverley Kennon and George Freeland Peter and his cousin Arthur Peter (1873-1943). The close proximity of the new O Street house to Tudor Place and the early demise of his mother encouraged a close relationship between Armistead Peter, Jr., and his grandmother Britannia (Peter) Kennon (1815-1911). An early interest in the history of Tudor Place and its maintenance was established; work in the garden alongside the head gardener John Luckett (1836-1906) promoted a deep knowledge and love for the grounds of his first home.

He worked as a real estate and loan broker and notary public for a company owned by Charles Early at 603 Fourteenth and F Streets N.W., Washington, D.C., from February 1892 until September 1893. In 1894 Armistead Peter, Jr., married a distant cousin, Anna Wright Williams (1872-1961). Armistead Peter, Jr., was descended from his grandmother Britannia (Peter) Kennon; Anna Wright Williams was descended from her grandmother America (Peter) Williams (1803-1842). America (Peter) Williams and Britannia (Peter) Kennon were sisters. Anna Wright (Williams) Peter was an heiress due to the wise financial investments of her maternal grandfather George Law (1806-1881). The newlyweds divided their early marriage years between an apartment at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in New York City, the Law family farm in upper state New York, and Washington, D.C. Their son, Armistead Peter 3rd, was born in 1896. That same year Armistead Peter, Jr., was elected a director of the Eighth and Ninth Avenue Rail Road Company in New York City, to replace George Law, his wife's maternal grandfather.

By the time his grandmother died in 1911, Britannia (Peter) Kennon had equally divided the contents of Tudor Place and the ownership of the house and grounds between her five grandchildren, Armistead Peter, Jr., and his siblings. Armistead Peter, Jr., bought his brothers' and sister's shares of the estate and thus became the third owner, following in the footsteps of his maternal great grandfather Thomas Peter and maternal grandmother Britannia (Peter) Kennon. With the guidance and advice of his brother Walter Gibson Peter, an architect, he updated the house by introducing electricity, state of the art plumbing, and an advanced heating system. Soon telephone service was added to the list of modern improvements. He initiated construction of a garage to accommodate the family's automobiles.

Devoted to his family's home and his family's history, Armistead Peter, Jr., spent his time maintaining the house and grounds. He had dutifully recorded Britannia (Peter) Kennon's reminiscences of early life at Tudor Place and added his own reminiscences for posterity. He visited the Law family farm, travelled west and occasionally abroad, and attended railroad board meetings in New York City, but Tudor Place was always his home base. An avid collector and reader, he also enjoyed hunting and long tramps in the country, but Tudor Place remained his first responsibility.

In 1923/24 he and his wife separated; she removed to New York. He never fully recovered from the shock of this event. His son Armistead Peter 3rd and his daughter-in-law and granddaughter returned from abroad to help him manage Tudor Place and regain his health. A few trips to Europe were efforts to revive his health, but he remained a semi-invalid. His love and interest in the home and grounds never diminished but in fact grew stronger. His remaining years were devoted to their upkeep. He died in 1960.

Scope and Content

The Armistead Peter, Jr., Papers include correspondence, subject files, diaries, note files, legal documents, financial documents, scrapbook material, and printed material. These papers constitute the most complete record of life at Tudor Place: they include detailed notes, journal entries, and financial documents covering the entire period Armistead Peter, Jr., lived at Tudor Place 1911-1960, and his research into the history of Tudor Place and the Peter family. He kept diaries from 1890 to 1957.

The management of Tudor Place and research into family history were the main occupations of Armistead Peter, Jr. His personal correspondence 1888-1960 is formal, consisting of invitations, thank you notes, condolences, and letters requesting genealogical information. The most extensive personal correspondence is with Caroline (Ogden-Jones) Peter, his daughter-in-law, concerning household arrangements at Tudor Place, and with his son, Armistead Peter 3rd, about the management and maintenance of Tudor Place. Both of these series cover a forty-year period. The business correspondence 1893-1959 includes the management of Tudor Place and a farm in Cambridge, New York. He served on the Board of Directors of the Eighth and Ninth Avenue Railroad Company in New York from 1896 to 1918, although his role in the running of the company was minor. The financial documents are particularly complete, as Armistead Peter, Jr., kept ledgers of all expenses for extended periods, as well as checkbooks and bills and receipts. Subject files such as literary productions and scrapbook material relate to family history and local Georgetown and Washington, D.C., history and personalities.

CORRESPONDENCE: AGNES NORFLEET (PETER) MOTT [MRS. JOHN RALEIGH MOTT]

1888-1903

Incoming and outgoing

Correspondence with her brother, Armistead Peter, Jr., covers four periods. The first period of 1888-1903 is exclusively incoming. These letters provide a good indication of Agnes Norfleet (Peter) Mott's personality, as well as detailed accounts of family members and life at Tudor Place and Georgetown.

The second period begins 1915-1922 and the bulk dates from her World War I service in YMCA activities in Europe and was written after several conflicts had cooled relations between brother and sister, conflicts centered on financial arrangements made in the aftermath of the death of their father Dr. Armistead Peter and the later demise of Britannia (Peter) Kennon. Further problems arose after Armistead Peter, Jr., took possession of Tudor Place and Agnes Norfleet (Peter) Mott continued to live in the house. Several letters of 1918 hint at cool relations between Agnes Norfleet (Peter) Mott and her sister-in-law Anna (Williams) Peter. Although they were living in the same house, Agnes Norfleet (Peter) Mott wrote from her room and had letters delivered to Anna (Williams) Peter. Armistead Peter, Jr., did, however, take care of his sister's business matters while she was abroad and a number of the letters from the war years deal with financial issues.

After her return from Europe she seems to have attempted a rapprochement with Armistead Peter, Jr., but between 1923 and 1940, he bundled all of his sister's letters together with red cloth tape and labeled them "Unopened! Unanswered! It is useless to return them!" This correspondence is quite innocent, consisting mostly of Christmas and birthday cards.

1950 through 1957 relations between the siblings improved. The correspondence is scanty, consisting exclusively of incoming correspondence, mostly holiday letters; some letters deal with the arrangements for her marriage to Dr. John Raleigh Mott in 1953 at Tudor Place.

CORRESPONDENCE: ANNE CUSTIS (PETER) PEARRE [MRS. DOUGLAS WORTHINGTON PEAREE]

1924-1959; ND

Incoming and outgoing

The outgoing correspondence is particularly heavy and revealing, written when Anne Custis (Peter) Pearre was a youngster, Armistead Peter, Jr., is quite playful. While a school girl she wrote fairly detailed letters to her grandfather on a regular basis, revealing activities in which she was involved. Although the letters become scantier once she is in college, they are still fairly detailed. Two sections of the correspondence were written while she was traveling in Europe in 1947 and 1950; correspondence after 1950 is sparse, perfunctory, and mostly incoming.

CORRESPONDENCE: ANNA (WILLIAMS) PETER [MRS. ARMISTEAD PETER, JUNIOR]

1891-1902; 1910

Incoming

The bulk of these letters date from 1896 through 1902. The earliest letter is a one sentence note that Armistead Peter, Jr., identified as being written on Thanksgiving Day in 1891. Two letters from 1895 were written during their trip to the West at points when the two were traveling separately for brief periods. The letters from 1896 through 1901 were written while Armistead Peter, Jr., was travelling by himself, some annual journeys to visit his family in Georgetown in January of each year and to go hunting at the Maryland house of George Granville Wright. They were also separated when he was in Georgetown due to the illnesses of Britannia (Peter) Kennon and Dr. Armistead Peter. Anna (Williams) Peter's letters note that she misses Armistead Peter, Jr., and relate news of her activities. Some gift notes are also included.

CORRESPONDENCE: DR. ARMISTEAD PETER

1895-1901

Incoming

Dr. Armistead Peter's letters to his son are not highly detailed and only amount to several a year. Often the letters were written to acknowledge birthday or Christmas gifts or arrangements for visits to Armistead Peter, Jr., in New York City, or at Content Farm, Cambridge, New York. Letters include information about the health of various Georgetown residents and family friends.

CORRESPONDENCE: ARMISTEAD PETER 3rd
1902; 1920-1959

Incoming and outgoing

The correspondence between Armistead Peter, Jr., and his son forms one of the most important bodies of material in this manuscript collection concerning business arrangements affecting Tudor Place, the understanding each man had of what Tudor Place was and should be, the relationship between the two men, and their personalities. The bulk of letters are outgoing.

The material from 1902 includes two handwritten notes and a Valentine's Day card. Letters dating 1920-1924 deal with business matters, although Armistead Peter, Jr., also describes his health at great length. The letters Armistead Peter 3rd wrote in 1924 while Armistead Peter, Jr., was in France contain details about the improvements he is making at Tudor Place in his father's absence. Armistead Peter, Jr., describes the improvements he is making at Content Farm, Cambridge, New York.

Letters from 1925 occasionally discuss relations between Armistead Peter, Jr., and his estranged wife, Armistead Peter 3rd's mother. In 1926 to 1927 references are made to a formal settlement between Armistead Peter, Jr., and Anna (Williams) Peter. Armistead Peter, Jr., was concerned about his financial situation during this period. Armistead Peter 3rd's letters to his father also became longer and more frequent; they focus almost exclusively on his activities at their farm.

Letters in 1931 record some of the evidence Armistead Peter, Jr., discovered that made clear the malfeasance of Lewis B. B. Oliver, his personal secretary. Although many of Armistead Peter, Jr.'s, letters in the 1930s deal with gardening, including the reestablishment of the box knot, in 1937 and 1938 they note his financial concerns. No letters exist from 1939 and 1940.

Letters from the 1940s mostly contain information about gardening and maintenance at Tudor Place and Armistead Peter, Jr.'s, health. By the late 1940s most letters are incoming; by the 1950s they are almost exclusively incoming, consisting mostly of news of Content Farm, Cambridge, New York.

CORRESPONDENCE: ARTHUR PETER AND EDITH (MARSHALL) PETER
1931-1938, scattered

Incoming and outgoing

Includes seven letters, a request to photograph Tudor Place forwarded by Arthur Peter, his cousin, and a letter from Arthur Peter with an account of the battle of Bladensburg.

CORRESPONDENCE: BEVERLEY KENNON PETER
1894-1904

Incoming

The letters Beverley Kennon Peter wrote to his brother provide important details about his life and the health of their grandmother Britannia (Peter) Kennon and their father Dr. Armistead Peter during several of their illnesses. He wrote letters concerning his work and business decisions when he was working in lawyers' offices, and when he worked for the United States Geological Survey. Some letters give accounts of social functions he attended in Georgetown.

CORRESPONDENCE: CAROLINE (OGDEN-JONES) PETER [MRS. ARMISTEAD PETER 3rd]

1921-1959; ND

Incoming and outgoing

This correspondence is the most extensive of the personal correspondence files in this collection. Prior to 1930 the correspondence is sparse, including letters written during Caroline (Ogden-Jones) Peter and Armistead Peter 3rd's honeymoon and includes a letter from Armistead Peter, Jr., congratulating Caroline (Ogden-Jones) Peter on her pregnancy. The bulk of the correspondence during this period is outgoing.

Beginning in 1930 the correspondence becomes much heavier and both the incoming and outgoing correspondence contains information about the activities of Anne Custis (Peter) Pearre, who lived at Tudor Place during the school year. The outgoing correspondence contains information about life at Tudor Place in general. There is also more discussion of business matters, since Lewis B. B. Oliver, Armistead Peter, Jr.'s, personal secretary had been dismissed by this time. A large portion of the incoming correspondence consists of telegrams communicating travel plans.

In 1937 the few letters that survive are shorter and more perfunctory. By this time Anne Custis (Peter) Pearre had begun boarding at school, which could account for the apparent falling off of correspondence. By the 1950s most of the correspondence is incoming and consists of brief notes and telegrams.

CORRESPONDENCE: REVEREND GEORGE FREELAND PETER

1894-1952

Incoming and outgoing

The bulk of this correspondence dates from 1894 through 1904. During this period George Freeland Peter, Armistead Peter, Jr.'s, brother, finished his studies at Sewanee: The University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee, and Union Theological Seminary, New York City, and took up his first post as an Episcopal clergyman. His letters discuss his life as a student, but also provide information about the health and activities of members of the Peter family. George Freeland Peter was in residence at Tudor Place for extended periods; his first job was in Washington, D.C. He kept Armistead Peter, Jr., posted on Peter family matters, particularly the health of Britannia (Peter) Kennon. From 1904 until 1915 no correspondence survives. Between 1915 and 1936 subjects discussed include the settlement of Britannia (Peter) Kennon's estate, the management of Agnes Norfleet (Peter) Mott's affairs while she was abroad, and trips. After 1936 the correspondence is less frequent and is usually prompted by illness, death, or the receipt of birthday or holiday gifts.

CORRESPONDENCE: MARIA LULIE (WHITLOCK) PETER [MRS. GEORGE FREELAND PETER]

1918-1959

Incoming and outgoing

This correspondence may be characterized as light social correspondence. The material includes a high percentage of thank you notes. Incoming and outgoing

This correspondence breaks into four periods. The letters from the earliest period, 1893-1905, contain questions about Armistead Peter, Jr.'s, marriage, his travels, and Peter family history. They also include information about events in Georgetown, family news, financial matters, and details of Walter Gibson Peter's architectural commissions.

No correspondence survives from 1906-1913. The correspondence from 1913-1915 is almost exclusively related to the renovation of Tudor Place, for which Walter Gibson Peter served as contractor.

Another gap exists between 1916 and 1919. The correspondence from 1919-1932, unlike the earlier incoming correspondence, is both incoming and outgoing. It deals with the renovation of Content Farm, Cambridge, New York, and business matters concerning Walter Gibson Peter's and Armistead Peter, Jr.'s, joint trusteeship of their brother Beverly Kennon Peter and the settlement of his estate. Some oblique letters refer to the estrangement between Anna (Williams) Peter and Armistead Peter, Jr. Letters from 1925 through 1932 were written while Armistead Peter, Jr., was abroad and note his health and the final settlement of the estates of Britannia (Peter) Kennon and Beverly Kennon Peter.

SECOND PARTY CORRESPONDENCE: SARAH (LAW) WILLIAMS [MRS. LAURENCE ABERT WILLIAMS]

BUSINESS CORRESPONDENCE

1893-1959; ND

The business correspondence is divided into two major sections: general business correspondence, and business correspondence from a particular correspondent. This arrangement reflects the way Armistead Peter, Jr., arranged the material. If this correspondence is any indication, Armistead Peter, Jr., made very few business decisions, although he did serve on the board of directors for the Eighth Avenue Railroad Company and the Ninth Avenue Railroad Company, which eventually merged. Official reminders of board meetings were sent by James Gelston Affleck, Secretary.

The most significant of these files contain correspondence between Armistead Peter, Jr., and Lewis B. B. Oliver, who worked as Armistead Peter, Jr.'s, personal secretary between 1919 and 1931. These letters reveal Armistead Peter, Jr.'s, primary business concerns, bookkeeping issues and the management of Content Farm, Cambridge, New York, and Tudor Place. Two other important files contain correspondence with the lawyer for the Eighth and Ninth Railroad, and the financial concerns of Anna (Williams) Peter. Occasional letters provide information about Tudor Place and the Peter family.

Series

A number of subject files deal with the settlement of estates, including George Augustine Haines, George Law, Sarah (Law) Williams, and Anna (Law) Wright; these files are under the heading "Estates" and are catalogued by the name of the individual estate. Other files include "Tudor Place Garden," "Genealogy," "Investments," "Oliver B. B. Lewis Investigation," "Anna (Williams) Peter Estrangement," and "Beverley Kennon Peter Trusteeship." The files "Tudor Place" describe the renovation of the house in 1913-1915.

Series

LITERARY PRODUCTIONS

1891-1957

The literary productions in the collection consist of essays and notes on the Peter family history and historical objects and include the diaries Armistead Peter, Jr., kept during most of his adult life. Armistead Peter, Jr., also kept records of Britannia (Peter) Kennon's memories entitled "Gleanings," A number of files contain "Reminiscences" which are written versions of Britannia (Peter) Kennon's oral accounts and vary from rough notes to detailed essays.

The note files are of a variety of types, containing notes about specific family artifacts, some of which are still in the Tudor Place collection separately titled and arranged alphabetically. Notebooks include genealogical information, gift lists, reading lists, recipes, and form letters. One file contains notes arranged by subject and the other is a calendar note file with notes associated with a particular day of the year.
